

1. Select the results you want to keep, then click Export

The screenshot shows a search results page with a yellow header. In the header, there are buttons for 'Mark all', '5 marked items', 'Email / Cite / Export', and 'Show only full text'. The 'Export' button is circled in red. Below the header, there are three search results, each with a checkbox on the left. The first result is checked and its title, 'Kyoto protocol and Nepal's energy sector', is circled in red. Each result has a 'Link to full text' and an 'Abstract' button below it.

2. Click on Export directly to ProCite, EndNote or Reference Manager

The screenshot shows the 'Export Citations' section of the ProQuest interface. At the top, there are tabs for 'Basic', 'Advanced', 'Topics', 'Publications', and 'My Research'. Below the tabs, there is a dropdown menu for 'Interface language' set to 'English'. The 'Export Citations' section is highlighted, and the first option, 'Export directly to ProCite, EndNote or Reference Manager', is circled in red. Other options include 'Export directly to RefWorks' and 'Download in a format compatible with ProCite, EndNote, Reference Manager and RefWorks'.

3. EndNote will open and prompt you to select the EndNote library you wish to import the results into.

Important!
Check the quality of references you have imported, and edit them as necessary.
