

1. Select the results you want to keep, then click Export

The screenshot shows the ProQuest search results interface. At the top, there are navigation options: 'Mark all', '2 marked items: Email / Cite / Export', and 'Show only full text'. A dropdown menu for 'Sort results by:' is set to 'Most recent first'. The main content area lists three search results. The first result, 'Energy Taxes and Household Compliance with the Kyoto Protocol', is selected with a checked checkbox. The 'Export' link in the top navigation bar and the checkbox for the first result are circled in red. The second result, 'A cross-national study of the association between per capita carbon dioxide emissions and exports to the United States', is also selected. The third result, 'QLD: Farmers out on a limb over tree-clearing: [2]', is not selected.

2. Click on Export directly to ProCite, EndNote or Reference Manager

The screenshot shows the 'Export Citations' page in ProQuest. The top navigation bar includes 'Basic', 'Advanced', 'Topics', 'Publications', and 'My Research 2 marked items'. The 'Interface language:' dropdown is set to 'English'. The main content area is titled 'Export Citations' and includes a '<< Back to Results' link. Three export options are listed: 'Export directly to RefWorks.', 'Export directly to ProCite, EndNote or Reference Manager.', and 'Download in a format compatible with ProCite, EndNote, Reference Manager and RefWorks.'. The first two options are circled in red. A note below the third option states: 'Click Save As on the browser's File menu, and save as text file'.

3. EndNote will open and prompt you to select the EndNote library you wish to import the results into.
