Interpretation

1. INTERPRETATION

1. In these University of Newcastle Student Living Community Standards, the following rules of interpretation apply unless the contrary intention appears:
 - i) Headings and bold type are for convenience only and do not affect the interpretation of these standards.
 - ii) The singular includes the plural and the plural includes the singular.
 - iii) A reference to 'including' (in any form) or 'such as' when introducing a list of items does not limit the meaning of the words to which the list relates to those items or to items of a similar kind and are not words of limitation.
 - iv) Other parts of speech and grammatical forms of a word or phrase defined in these standards have a corresponding meaning.
 - v) A reference to "$" means Australian Dollars.

Community Expectations

2. EXPECTATIONS, RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

In strong, positive communities all members know what their responsibilities are and what is expected of them. By choosing to live on campus, you are choosing to be a member of the Student Living Community and to abide by the University of Newcastle Student Living Community Standards ('Student Living Community Standards', 'Standards') and the University's Student Code of Conduct. This document should be read in conjunction with, and these standards of behaviour are enforceable under, the Student Occupancy Licence Agreement.

As a member of the University community and under the University's Student Code of Conduct you are committed to the values of honesty, fairness, trust, accountability and respect. At all times community members are to behave in a way that upholds these values both as individuals and as representatives of the University.

Student Living reserves the right to make amendments to these Standards at any time. Such updates will be communicated with current residents via e-mail.

You are expected to be familiar with your responsibilities and can expect in return that Student Living will support you to understand and uphold them.

The Student Living Community Standards and Student Occupancy Licence Agreement (including Terms and Conditions, the Information Table and Acceptance (Annexure 1) and the Schedule of Charges (Annexure 2)) are critical reference points regarding your rights and responsibilities as a valued member of our residential community. Please ensure you are familiar with these documents before you move in and across your entire period of residency. You will hear them referred to often, and the expectation is that you have read and understood them.

Respect is crucial in establishing and maintaining positive shared living environments which you can support by making an effort to get to know the people living around you. This helps you to enjoy your experience together but also makes it easier to address concerns that may come up in your community.

If circumstances change in your living environment, your Residential Mentors and Student Living staff are here to support you and assist to resolve any issues.

3. YOUR WELFARE

- a) Please disclose to the Student Living team any support you may require while living within the University's student residential community. This may include pre-existing conditions or developing concerns. Any information provided will be managed and stored confidentially in accordance with your Student Occupancy Licence Agreement. Information will only be shared with your permission, or where there is significant concern about a risk to yourself or others.
- b) Student Living team members may contact you if concerns for your welfare have been reported by staff, peers or others. This contact may result in referral to other University or non-University support services. Any reasonable requests to attend a meeting with a Student Living staff member cannot be declined. It is very important that you engage with the Student Living team to ensure your health, safety and wellbeing whilst living on campus.
- c) Health and Wellbeing - The Student Living precinct is a safe, welcoming, and inclusive environment. We seek to promote respectful relationships, healthy living behaviours and a supportive community. We welcome any request for support from all members of our community.

- To speak with the Health and Wellbeing Coordinator call Student Living on +61 2 4913 8888 to make an appointment.
 - To access the University's after-hours support line call 1300 653 007 or text 0488 884 165 for SMS chat option. Find out more here. The University's after-hours support line offers immediate and short-term crisis support only, not ongoing counselling.
 - As a university student you can seek support from the University's Counselling team for ongoing counselling free of charge.
- d) Consent Matters - The University and Student Living do not tolerate sexual assault or sexual harassment. Affirmative consent is key to ensuring that sexual experiences are safe and enjoyable for all involved. All new residents are required to attend a consent and healthy relationships lecture during the orientation period. They are also required to complete the University's Consent Matters online module as a condition of their enrolment at the University. If you would like to discuss these requirements or seek an exemption, please contact the Student Living Support Team on studentlivingsupport@newcastle.edu.au. For more information, visit Consent Matters.
- e) Australian residents under the age of 18 may be required to live within an assigned Quiet Living environment (low alcohol, low noise) until they turn 18 years of age and can then request a room move as per the standard process (fees apply). International students under the age of 18 will be required to live within North Tower. All residents, regardless of their age, are required to follow legislation and guidelines when living as part of our community. Students under the age of 18 may be required to attend engagement activities with Student Living on request to ensure their support and safety.
- f) Community Suitability Assessment (CSA) – you may be asked to take part in a CSA to ensure you meet the reasonable social and behavioural requirements of living on campus. This assessment will be undertaken by a member of the University's student wellbeing team and you will have the opportunity to respond and to provide documents or other evidence relevant to those concerns.

4. CONDUCT

- a) The Student Living conduct process intends to guide individuals living as part of the Student Living community to consider the impact their behaviour may have had on others, which can include fellow residents, students, staff, guests and facilities. The process strives to minimise and/or reduce harm for all involved, see individuals reflect on their behaviour and ultimately work with Student Living to change future behaviour in striving to be a better citizen and contributor to the Student Living community. This process does not limit the actions the University can take under the Student Occupancy Licence Agreement, such as imposing fees or charges.
- b) For further information, please refer to the University's Student Conduct Rule.

5. REPORTING A COMMUNITY OR WELLBEING CONCERN

- a) Residents are encouraged to report any community concerns that may have affected their health and safety while living on campus, any breaches to these Standards or any other University policy, or concerns for another resident's safety or wellbeing.

Further investigation may be required, whereby other parties may be contacted, and potentially dealt with under the University's Student Conduct Rule or Student Living processes.
- c) A matter can be directly reported to Student Living which will ensure a reply with an offer of support and resolution in conversation with the reporting resident and/or impacted parties. Student Living's response to community concerns is survivor / victim led. Outside of Student Living, the Office of Student Advocacy provides free and confidential assistance in navigating the rules and regulations of the University to support you with matters as they arise or should you seek clarification on processes.
