ARC LINKAGE PROJECTS

The Australian Research Council (ARC) Linkage Projects scheme provides support for collaborative research and development projects between higher education organisations and industry that aim to acquire new knowledge through innovation.

Benefits
- leverage up to four times your cash contribution in Australian Government funds
- develop links with one of Australia’s leading research universities through direct collaboration
- opportunities to recruit our outstanding research scholars
- potential access to research and development tax concessions

Funding:
- The ARC will award grants in the range from $50,000 - $300,000 per year for two to five years

Who can be a partner
- private sector organisations, both industry and not-for-profit
- most state, territory and Commonwealth government departments and organisations.

Partner organisation requirements
- a minimum cash contribution of 25% of requested ARC funds for the project – applications may be exempt from this cash requirement if all partner organisations are, for example: start-ups; small businesses with less than 20 employees; not-for-profit (other categories apply).
- total cash plus in-kind contributions equal to requested ARC funds
- active participation in the project
- a letter of support to be provided with the proposal to the ARC
- a written research agreement with the University that outlines roles, contributions and intellectual property arrangements.

Timing
- The ARC Linkage Projects scheme is run on a continuous basis and proposals can be submitted at any time up to Thursday 20 December 2018
- All proposals are expected to be announced by the ARC within six months of proposal submission

R&D Tax Incentive
- The University of Newcastle is a registered Research Service Provider (RSP) and partner organisations may be eligible for the R&D Tax Incentive (https://www.business.gov.au/) available through the Australian Taxation Office and the Department of Industry.

Further Information
Our Industry Program Coordinator and research grants team will assist you in establishing new partnerships at the University of Newcastle. The team can:
- arrange introductions with our researchers
- facilitate access to our world-class research facilities
- assist with the development and submission of your Linkage Projects proposal to the ARC

For further information on collaborating with the University of Newcastle, please contact the Industry Program Coordinator:

E: research-applications@newcastle.edu.au   T: +61 2 4921 7733