

TRANSITION ARRANGEMENTS

THE UNIVERSITY OF NEWCASTLE
AUSTRALIA

Last updated November 2023

There have been some important changes to:

Master of Applied Finance

Program Code: 12374

For students who commenced prior to 2024.

What kind of changes have been made to this program?

There have recently been some important changes to the courses in your Master of Applied Finance program. All previously completed courses will still count towards your program, however this change may require some variation to your future enrolment.

What you need to do

For students who commenced prior to 2024:

Review the Transition Arrangements on the following pages to see which courses have been impacted. We recommend updating your Program Planner with any required adjustments to your future enrolment.

For students who commenced from 2024:

Please refer to your program handbook.

Course added from 2024 onwards

GSBS6147

Investment and Portfolio Management (Core)

Additional 10 units from Course List

Select an additional 10 units of courses from the Course List (40 units total)

What does this mean for me?

If you have completed both GSBS6140 and GSBS6143 by the end of 2023, your program requirements will remain unchanged. GSBS6143 and GSBS6140 will continue to count as core courses in your program and you will only need to complete 30 units of courses from the course list. You will not be permitted to study GSBS6147.

If you have not completed both GSBS6140 and GSBS6143 by the end of 2023, you will need to study new core course, GSBS6147, and an additional 10 units of courses from the course list (40 units total) in place of these two courses.

If you have completed GSBS6140 ONLY by the end of 2023, you will need to study new core course, GSBS6147, in place of GSBS6143. You will only need to study 30 units of courses from the course list.

If you have completed GSBS6143 ONLY by the end of 2023, you will need to study an additional 10 units of courses from the course list (40 units total) in place of GSBS6140. You will not be permitted to study GSBS6147.
