Transition Arrangements

Transition Arrangements from program: amalgamation of core design courses with companion courses

The following table outlines the approved transition arrangements for students who enrolled in the program prior to 2016:

- If a student has successfully completed either ARBE1200 Architectural Design 1A OR ARBE2100 Construction Technology 2, but not successfully completed the other course (Fail (FF) or Withdrawal (WW)) prior to 2016, they will still need to complete the other 10 unit companion course.
 - If a student has not completed either course then they proceed into the new ARBE1222 Architecture Studio 1.
- If a student has successfully completed either ARBE2201 Architectural Design 2B OR ARBE2202 Communication in the Built Environment 4, but not successfully completed the other course (Fail (FF) or Withdrawal (W)) prior to 2016, they will still need to complete the other 10 unit companion course.
 - If a student has not completed either course then they proceed into the new ARBE2222 Architecture Studio 4.

From 2017:

- All students must enrol in and complete the new ARBE1222 Architecture Studio 1 irrespective of whether they have completed both ARBE1200 Architectural Design 1A and ARBE Construction Technology 2. Their program will be managed by the program convenor to ensure they do not complete more than 240 units in order to complete their degree.
- All students must enrol in and complete the new ARBE2222 Architecture Studio 4 irrespective of whether they have completed both ARBE2201 Architectural Design 2B and ARBE2202 Communication in the Built Environment 4. Their program will be managed by the program convenor to ensure they do not complete more than 240 units in order to complete their degree.
