

COMPARATIVE CONTRACT LAW

BRIDGING GAPS IN LEGAL TRADITIONS

DR ELIEZER SANCHEZ-LASABALLETT

A functional understanding of legal institutions for innovative lawyers.

A lawyer trained and researching in the civil and common law worlds, Dr Eliezer Sanchez-Lasaballett brings his extensive experience in the judiciary, development industry and social programs management to further the understanding of private law in academia. His research features in the UNCITRAL-OUP Uniform Law Review and the Commercial Law Quarterly. He imparts his knowledge through international conferences in Australia, the UK, Asia, Europe and USA, and higher education in contracts, commercial, corporations, international and property law.

COMPETITIVE ADVANTAGE

- Working knowledge straddling the civil and common law worlds, international financial institutions and social programs management
- Research in Spanish, Portuguese and English
- Interest in emerging transactional technologies
- Interdisciplinary collaborations including political sciences.

PARTNERS

Extensive work experience collaborating with experts from various disciplines and cultural backgrounds including:

- University of Bristol Law School

- University of Western Australia Law School
- University of Brawijaya Faculty of Law
- United Nations Development Programme (UNDP)
- Inter American Development Bank (IADB).

SUCCESSFUL RESEARCH APPLICATION

- Elevate Program for the School of Law and Justice at the University of Newcastle exploring AI-Powered Complaint Management in Culturally and Linguistically Diverse (CALD) communities.

MORE INFORMATION

Dr Eliezer Sanchez-Lasaballett

T: +61 432 958 533

E: e.sanchez-lasaballett@newcastle.edu.au

