

TRANSITION ARRANGEMENTS

THE UNIVERSITY OF
NEWCASTLE
AUSTRALIA

Last updated October 2023

There have been some important changes to:

Master of Professional Psychology

Program Code: 40117

For students who commenced prior to 2024.

What kind of changes have been made to this program?

There have recently been some important changes to the core courses in your Master of Professional Psychology program. All previously completed courses will still count towards your program, however this change may require some variation to your future enrolment.

What you need to do

For students who commenced prior to 2024:

Review the Transition Arrangements table on the following page to see which courses have been impacted and their replacement. We recommend updating your Program Planner with any adjustments to your future enrolment.

For students who commenced from 2024:

Refer to your program handbook.

Further information or advice:

- See FAQs at the end of this document
- Visit AskUON
- Contact your Program Advisor on askuon@newcastle.edu.au

Transition Arrangements

* 'Completed' means successfully passed a course or received approved credit for a course

The following description outlines the approved transition arrangements for students who commenced in the Master of Professional Psychology program prior to 2024. Students who commence the program in 2024 onwards should follow the program structure that is outlined in the Program Handbook.

Pre-2024 Course

Not yet completed

PSYC6405
Applications of Psychological Practice (Core)

Replacement Courses

Course to be completed from 2024 onwards as offered

PSYC6505
Research Development (Core)

If you have previously completed PSYC6405:

If you have completed PSYC6405 prior to 2024, this will continue to count as a core course in your program. You will not need to study new course, PSYC6505.

If you have not completed PSYC6405:

From 2024 onwards, you will need to take new course, PSYC6505, as a core course in your program.

Need further assistance?

If you have any questions or concerns with the outlined transition arrangement, please do not hesitate to reach out to the Program Advice team through askuon@newcastle.edu.au. The Program Advice team are happy to assist you in interpreting these changes and their impact on your future progression.