Auchmuty Information Commons celebrates 10 years of 24/7 Service

The Auchmuty Information Common (AIC) celebrated ten years of 24 hour operations on Monday the 10th of March. Rovers, library staff, current and ex-students as well as staff from IT, Teaching Spaces Support, and Infrastructure and Facilities attended a cake-cutting ceremony to catch up on old times and celebrate the success of the AIC.

Following a theme of 'ten', every tenth visitor to Bytes Café or the Information Desk received a small gift or a coffee voucher.

The AIC is one of the most well-used and well-loved spaces in the Library and was extremely popular from the moment it opened. More than 335,000 people visited the AIC in 2013. Its continued success is based on analysis of changing patterns of study and pedagogy, and by listening to and responding to student feedback.

The AIC provided an early benchmark for developing engaging student-focussed spaces at the University of Newcastle and elsewhere, and ten years on its success continues to inform future planning.

“Possibly the single best service provided by the University of Newcastle”

Auchmuty Roof Terrace awarded a Commendation in Architecture Awards

CKDS, the architects of the refurbished Auchmuty Library Roof Terrace, have been awarded a Small Projects commendation for their work.

The Australian Institute of Architects announced the winners of the 2014 Newcastle Architecture Awards on Thursday 6 March. Nine projects were recognized, including CKDS's work on the Auchmuty Roof Terrace, and the project is now in the running for the NSW Architecture Awards in June.

Stuart Campbell from CKDS thanked University staff including the Associate Director Infrastructure and Projects, Brian Jones and University Librarian, Greg Anderson for working with CKDS and helping them to push beyond the more conservative first concepts to really meet the needs of students.

The success of the Roof Terrace refurbishment is obvious from its popularity – particularly on sunny days when more than 90 students have been counted outside in the fresh air relaxing and studying.

'Survival Stations' help students beat that late night hunger

New 'Survival Stations' installed in the Auchmuty, Ourimbah and City Information Commons are a hit with students.

Each Survival Station has microwaves and hot water facilities so time poor or budget conscious students can make hot drinks or heat up leftover food.

The stations were installed with the help of SSAF funding in response to student feedback in our Library Client Satisfaction Surveys.

Library staff receive long service awards

Congratulations to the following staff who received long service awards in March:

Monica Condon
Fatu Kigbo
Benjamin Rigby
Geoffrey Nash

Lorraine Haywood
Michael Carr
Bee Choo

Staff and friends attended a service recognition award ceremony on Wednesday, 19 March in the University Gallery where they were presented with their awards by the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Academic), Professor Andrew Parfitt.

Geoffrey Nash with his mother Audrey Nash, Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Academic) Professor Andrew Parfitt, and Geoffrey's sister the University's Deputy Academic Registrar, Carmel O'Regan, who also received an award.

ANZAC EXHIBITIONS

Lest We Forget

The Library currently has exhibitions commemorating the ANZACS in the exhibition space outside Cultural Collections at the Auchmuty Library and on the exhibition wall near Gibalee in the Ourimbah Library, while Huxley library is featuring an Anzac book display.

The Auchmuty exhibition includes artefacts such as World War One song books while the Ourimbah exhibition features a series of photographs drawn from the Cultural Collections Flickr site:

The exhibitions are part of a series mounted by Library staff and volunteers that have included Fungi, Antarctica, One Hundred Women, and Indigenous artworks.

The University Gallery's latest exhibition is Shadowline and Spiritlands. <http://www.newcastle.edu.au/community-and-alumni/arts-and-culture/the-university-gallery>

World's Greatest Shave

Lending team member John Collins shaves for a cure. Kelly Marlborough wields the razor while Jane Neave supervises. John has raised over $1500 so far.
