

MISSION: Our mission is to advance responsible and impactful business knowledge. To achieve our mission, we develop life ready graduates and build global and local partnerships through ethical and innovative practice.

OVERVIEW

Course Description

Global Business is increasingly confronted with the need to participate and manage in a real-time digital environment. Business decision makers need to consider how to take advantage of digital technologies as a potential imperative for competitive advantage, and whether their current marketing strategies effectively integrate digital channels. This course incorporates specialised simulation software (Stukent Mimic Pro) to provide students with an applied understanding of the impact of marketing in the digital environment. Digital Marketing targets the Web, mobile devices, as well as social media and other digital channels in the context of both their technological underpinnings and facilitation of delivery mechanisms. Students investigate globalisation, adaptation, and real-time communication issues together with new forms of segmentation and an entire new paradigm of understanding consumers in this rapidly changing digital environment.

Assessment 1 – Digital Channel Analysis (Group Report)

|----------------------------|--|
| Assessment Type | Report |
| Purpose | The purpose of this assessment task is to assess students' understanding of digital marketing in a real-world context. |
| Description | Imagine you are a team member within a digital marketing consulting firm and have been assigned to a small team with other colleagues to support a senior consultant working on a client account. Your tasks for this group assessment are to conduct a digital channel analysis of your client's brand, and one key competitor, and submit a report to the senior consultant detailing your findings for the prospective client. The report includes information that builds client awareness of the current strengths and weaknesses of their digital channels and the effectiveness of their existing online value proposition which makes the brand distinctive in the market. The report also identifies opportunities and implications for future digital marketing initiatives. The Digital Channel Analysis is designed to be a group practical activity to help you relate the digital marketing theory and tools you are covering in class to industry practice. It will also provide insights that are helpful in shaping your decision-making processes in Mimic Pro Simulation (Assessment 2) and formulating your final Individual Critical Reflection (Assessment 3). |
| Weighting | 30% |
| Length | 5000 words |
| Due Date | Sunday Week 5 by 9:00 pm |
| Submission Method | Online – via Turnitin |
| Assessment Criteria | Detailed assessment rubric is available on CANVAS. Your group digital channel analysis report should include the following: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Client Overview: (a) Briefly describe the company and its most prominent digital channels, e.g. a branded website, social media accounts and mobile app; and (b) Identify the prominent online value proposition (OVP) from the company's digital channels. 2. Market review: Justification for selecting specific competitor and its digital channels. 3. Analysis criteria: Develop a set of digital channel analysis criteria. Use of recommendations from practice and recognised digital marketing service providers is expected. Additionally, selected criteria need to be justified using suitable research-informed frameworks described in the recommended course readings, and scholarly literature on customer experience and customer engagement; 4. Channel analysis: Using your digital channel analysis criteria, analyse and compare | the appropriateness and perceived effectiveness of selected channel attributes of the selected competitor and your client.

5. Competitor OVP analysis: Identify and justify existing online value proposition(s) (OVP) from the competitor's digital channels;

Recommendation: A summary of the salient considerations and implications arising from your analysis. Propose at least one (1) digital marketing S.M.A.R.T objective for your client in the next 6 months.

The report must have adequate visual illustration. Follow report format criteria provided in NBS student manual. The format of the report should be in Times New Roman, 12-point font, 1.5-line spacing with 2.5cm margins and be no more than 5000 words. The written report MUST contain a list of references, cited correctly with a consistent format (i.e. APA referencing style).

Assessment 2 - Mimic Pro Simulation Decision Rounds

Assessment Type
Purpose

Applied / Practical Simulated Decision Making Tasks

The purpose of this assessment is to assess students' knowledge of the planning and implementation process in a digital marketing context.

Description

Using the guided Stukent Mimic Pro Digital Marketing simulation platform, students are tasked with a series of practical scenarios relating to the management of a brand's digital marketing channels. Over 5 weeks, each student will complete ten (10) rounds of decisions, based on successful management of a digital marketing budget and key initiatives of a hypothetical retailer across paid and owned media channels. Tasks include, but are not limited to, landing page optimisation, keyword research (SEO and SEM), segment targeting, and paid search advertising campaign development. Materials and class discussion within the weekly lectures will prepare students for this task, in addition to independent research and in-class activities.

Weighting

50% (10% per week for 5 weeks).

Length

Each Decision Round is managed by the individual student in the Mimic Pro platform

Due Date

Sunday, Weeks 4-8, by 9:00 pm

Submission Method

Online via Mimic Pro Simulation platform. Each student must complete and submit their own weekly decision rounds through their unique login credentials.

Assessment Criteria

1. Mimic Pro simulates the decision-making demands of a digital marketer. The choices made by each student throughout each of the 10 rounds, are simulated with budget allocation, campaign design and market response data. Each student will be graded based on their performance across the 10 rounds.
